TRIP TO LEXINGTON

Account of Journey from Whipple Barracks to Camp Hamilton in Kentucky.

RECEPTION ALONG THE ROAD

"Gila Monsters" from Arizona and "Gillie Monsters" from New Mexico Ob- jects of Curiosity in the Mid- dle States.

Camp Hamilton, Sept. 29.—The trip from Whipple barracks to Lexington will always remain green in the minds of the territorial volunteers. Many places along the route turned out crowds of wildly enthusiastic and admiring people. Others treated the matter seriously, and seemed to care nothing about the destination or object of the regiment.

The general apathy of the public in the Middle states indicates that the "soldier fad" is on the wane. Soldiers are becoming common, and the fickle public now proposes to turn its attention to the latest phases of horse shows and football records. The "brave boys in blue" can no longer travel on their shapes. They have been relegated to the sphere of the "has-beens" and soon the "brave boys in blue" will live only in the reminiscences of those who suffered. So soon forgotten! One is tempted to wonder if, after all, the public is worth any risk.

The people of Prescott were evidently glad to see the volunteers leave the place. They wouldn't take it along if they could.

Williams, Ariz., headed the list in tendering the boys an ovation. There is a halo of red, white and blue patriot- ism hovering over Williams. While the town boasts of but few inhabitants, they were all out. The 16 ladies who rushed in mass for the train and lionized the boys. Your correspondent was well known in Williams, and the ladies quickly detected his blouse of brass buttons. The "brave boys in blue" were taken, "not for publica- tion," but for the purpose of preserving the memory of the "brave boys in blue" for those who with Spain. Kind hearts and generous as- sistance in this age of great prog- ression and little religion, and should be appreciated when found.

At Albuquerque a large crowd met the boys and gave them the "glad hand." Tom Hughes, of the Citizen, who has a warm place in his heart for Santa Fe boys, rushed to the front and did his utmost to make things pleasant for those who he knew. Garfield Hughes, who served in the Santiago campaign and now wears the leathery complexion peculiar to recently returned volunteers, was re- garded with pride and curiosity by those who served in the Whipple barracks campaign.

The boys on the first section could scarcely restrain their impatience dur- ing the run from Albuquerque to Lamy. And when the latter place was reached they were so rattled that they neglected to take proper advantage of the time al- lowed to them. The "brave boys in blue" intended to send to those who could not come on the excursion were forgotten, and things which they desired to say to those who were present were suppressed by the confounding excitement.

As the train pulled out of Lamy tears stood in the eyes of many of the Santa Fe boys. Strange how a little love sent into an existence which seems lonely and distasteful, and how a hard jump to rise in the throat! There is no senti- ment in camp life and the forcible pre- sentation of the knowledge that some one really has an interest in the soldier is most affecting.

The crowd at Las Vegas was tremen- dous. The band was out and the stand- ing room as far as the eye could reach was apparently utilized. A vast sea of humanity, surging, murmuring, confus- edly and roaring with cheers, it seemed. Your correspondent was surprised to find many intellectual looking people who acknowledged that they took pleas- ure in reading the New Mexican. One party of ladies, who "desired to learn the truth from headquarters," as they ex- pressed it, asked all manner of ques- tions relative to the alleged sufferings of the soldier boys. They seemed horri- fied to learn that the boys had traveled the day previous on one sandwich and a cup of coffee each, then surprised when they were told that a soldier could easily subsist a whole week on less than that, if necessary. The harrowing tales of privation which have reached the ears of the New Mexican people have had one effect. It caused them to send in enough lunches to last the boys during the entire trip. The strong, healthy appear- ance of the traveling volunteers was doubtless a revelation to a vast sea of placed too much credence in the Citizen articles. The American soldier can no more help magnifying the hardships he endures than he can help feeling dis- satisfied with his lot.

In Trinidad a band awoke the echoes and sleeping soldiers at 1 o'clock a. m. A great crowd of enthusiastic people were waiting there to welcome the boys. Many rushed through the cars looking for friends and acquaintances.

From Trinidad the soldier train was sent through with the rapidity of Cal- ifornia fruit, and given the preference due all perishable goods. Little atten- tion was paid the boys through the Mid- dle states. People gazed curiously on the "Gila Monsters" from Arizona and "Gillie monsters" from New Mexico, and when they handed out sandwiches, did it as gingerly as a small boy hands a bun to a circus elephant. In Dodge City a girl was heard to remark: "Teacher says a bite of a soldier is one of those things is deadly poison."

Many of the western volunteers had never seen a street car or steamboat previous to this trip. Jim Reddy's first remark, when he sighted an electric car, was: "Where's the burros that pull it?"

J. F. MANNING.

PERSONAL MENTION.

A. J. Fischer left this afternoon to at- tend a meeting at Albuquerque of the territorial board of pharmacy.

Hon. T. B. Catron returned last night from Albuquerque, where he had been in attendance on the Republican terri- torial convention.

S. E. Lankard, the well known insur- ance man, has returned from a success- ful business trip through the northern part of the territory.

Miss Zimmer, the new manager of the Western Union telegraph office in this city, arrived from Ouray, Colo., last night, and took charge of the office to- day.

A. Collins, the popular prescription clerk in Ireland's pharmacy, returned from a month's trip to Omaha, Chicago and other eastern cities last night. During his absence he visited his old home in Joliet, Ill.

T. B. Brewer, of Charleston, Mo., has taken a position in Fischer's drug store, as M. M. White continues very ill and may not be able to resume his drug store work for a long time. Mr. Brewer is a graduate in pharmacy and a capable man.

John M. Hale, of Albuquerque, a well known traveling man, and Miss Stella Isherwood, of El Paso, will be married in the El Paso Presbyterian church October 25 by Rev. H. W. Moore, broth- er of Rev. W. H. Moore, of this city. The couple will reside in Albuquerque.

J. D. Benedict, superintendent of government forest reservations in New Mexico and Arizona, returned from a trip of inspection in the Mogollon moun- tains last night. The government in- tends to establish a reservation in the southwestern part of the territory, and Mr. Benedict had been down to spy out the land.

W. G. Simmons, formerly of this city, and daughter, left for Denver and the east this morning. They were en route through southern Colorado and con- cluded they must take a glimpse of Santa Fe to see their old friends, before turning homeward. So they came down here, and departed, delighted with their visit. Mr. Simmons is enthusiastic over Santa Fe climate, which he thinks can not be surpassed anywhere; the glori- ous mornings here particularly taking his fancy.

G. H. Hackett, wife and mother de- parted this morning over the narrow gauge for Canon City, Colo., where Mr. Hackett has remained. He will remain out of the telegraph operating business for a year, so as to have a good rest, and then he may return to it. Mr. Hackett and family left with the best wishes of many friends.

Rev. G. S. Madden has gone to Silver City to attend the meeting there of the New Mexico conference of the Methodist Church. The appointment will be made public next Monday morning by Bishop Hurst, who is presiding over the conference.

Charles Kehrman and family returned last night from St. Louis. Santa Fe after a pleasant visit in this city. It is here in place to remark that visitors al- ways go away with the most favorable impressions of the climatic attractions of this city.

Miss Henderson, of Washington, D. C., is a tourist registered at the Palace. George C. Underhill, of Rutland, Vt., formerly the pastor of Father O'Keefe, is a tourist stopping at the Palace.

Hon. John S. Clark, territorial coal oil inspector, is in the city from Las Vegas to establish headquarters of the Repub- lican territorial central committee, of which he is chairman.

Rev. Father Pouget, formerly chan- cellor of this diocese, takes charge this week of the East Las Vegas parish, formerly the pastorate of Father O'Keefe. It. B. Hildebrand is a traveling sales- man from Denver, who is finding trade good in this part of the country and is registered at the Palace while in town.

Miss W. Casman, wife of one of the new landlords of the Claire, arrived yesterday from Silver City, where her husband was recently in business.

Col. C. R. E. Twitcheil, the eloquent assistant attorney of the Santa Fe road in New Mexico, registers at the Palace from Las Vegas.

E. Mason, of Pueblo, a traveling man, is in town selling goods, and is stop- ping at the Claire. He finds business very fair this fall.

O. C. Foltz and wife, of San Diego, are traveling through the territory, and are registered at the Exchange.

Ex-District Attorney J. H. Crist, of Monero, is in town on business, and is stopping at the Exchange.

Mrs. A. M. Moss, of Aguas Calientes, Mex., is in town on a visit, and is registered at the Palace.

Frank Emerson, a Glorieta cattleman, is in town on business, and is registered at the Exchange.

W. W. Bannister, a traveling man from Colorado Springs, is registered at the Exchange.

Ex-Postmaster Jose Salazar y Ortiz, of Chama, is in the city, and is at the Exchange.

Miss Hattie Nichols, of Raton, is vis- iting in this city, and is stopping at the Claire.

Free Lunch.

The Arcade saloon opens tonight with a fine spread, something to satisfy the hungry, and it will cost you nothing. Everybody cordially invited.

MINOR CITY TOPICS.

U. S. weather bureau forecast for New Mexico: Generally fair tonight and Wednesday.

Hon. Frank Springer, of Las Vegas, has received the sad news of the death of his father in Iowa.

Lowitzki's new five glass landau will arrive this week, and other new vehicles will also be along shortly.

Barber Kerr has refitted his Arcade barber shop with new fixtures, and now proudly boasts of running the newest up-to-date establishment of this kind in the city.

Messrs. Joss, McMahon and Okerson, of Fairview, Kans., have bought 3,000 sheep in this vicinity which they will ship tomorrow over the narrow gauge to Kansas for feeding.

Yesterday the thermometer at the local weather bureau registered as fol- lows: Maximum, 72 degrees; minimum, 42 degrees at 2:10 p. m.; minimum, 47 degrees at 6:00 a. m. The mean temperature for the 24 hours was 56 degrees.

Nine troops of the 9th cavalry passed through this territory yesterday en route to their new stations. The boys all spoke in the highest terms of the "Rough Riders," one of the troopers stating that the Riders treated the 9th like brothers.

Mrs. James T. Newhall, of this city, was one of the exhibitors at the Albu- querque fair, having on display a beau- tiful embroidered center piece, and was awarded first premium in the class under which the entry was made.

The evaporator people are doing a large and promising business with the new plant, and fruit growers in this county are feeling thankful that such an industry has been established here to take care of their surplus fruit crops.

Five trains carrying troops went south over the Santa Fe line last night, filled with colored infantry and cavalry. The railroad company took good care of the men, providing them with tourist sleepers. The men were all in good spirits, and ready for a good rest after their campaign in Cuba.

W. H. Goebel has a boy evidently with ideas of his own, and who is observing withal. He has noticed pictures of certain schoolboys with "To Kansas or bust" marked on the canvases, so he fixed himself out the other day with a small prairie schooner, canvas covering and all, and stenciled neatly on the canvass, "To school or bust," in commem- oration of the opening of the public schools last Monday.

The annual fiesta in commemoration of San Francisco, the patron saint of this city, was celebrated last night and today all good Catholics in this part of the country. Cannon crackers were discharged plentifully last night, bon- fires lighted, and a general good time indulged in. Today the cathedral was crowded with worshippers in attendance on the special services held in honor of the occasion.

Colonel R. E. Twitcheil, of Las Vegas, was on the Santa Fe train that took de- tachments of the 25th Infantry and 9th cavalry south and westward to their new stations yesterday. The officers, as well as the men themselves, told Colonel Twitcheil that the reason why so many volunteers died in Cuba was because they did not know how to take care of them- selves. The 25th Infantry lost only one man during its campaign in Cuba because the men were posted as to how to look after themselves properly.

According to all reports the D. & R. G. is having such a big rush of business between Denver and Pueblo that an ex- tension of the double track is impera- tively called for, so that there may be a double track all of the way between the two cities for the 150 miles. In fact all the roads running out of Denver are having their hands full. The D. & R. G. has "set up" 14 firemen within the last 30 days, which means that number of new engineers, thus showing how the demand is increasing on the motive power department of the road for additional engines.

As a detachment of colored troops stopped over at Albuquerque yesterday, one of the boys who had more corn juice aboard than was good for his equilibrium, wandered over to engage in more or less animated conversation with some in- dian on the further end of the depot platform. The commanding officer ordered the soldier back to his place, but was not obeyed. Then the officer ordered a sober soldier to cover the delinquent with his rifle and to make a sieve out of him if he did not then obey. The drunken soldier sobered up when he saw what was coming, and concluded to do as he was told.

The city council in its meeting last evening took action in referring to City Attorney Gortner the question of whether or not the current expense moneys of the city may be devoted legally to the liquidation of the accrued interest on the so-called Bateman law. There ap- pears to be some controversy among the legal profession as to the propriety of applying any current expense funds to such purpose. Yet the fact remains that the interest on these bonds is un- paid and considerable discontent among the holders thereof exists in conse- quence. The Bateman law, enacted in 1897, provided a method for the pay- ment of such interest, by levy by the county commissioners, which machinery of course could not become effective for the year 1898. The first levy under that act possible to be made was in May, 1898, which provides funds only for the year 1899. In that status of the law, the city authorities are anxious, if it is possible, to discharge the 1898 interest out of the general expense funds of 1898. It is sincerely to be hoped that this may be found to be in accordance with the spirit of the law.

V. Lorenzo has returned from Colo- rado and is ready to do all kinds of painting, calsoning and paper hang- ing in eastern styles and at eastern prices.

COURT OF PRIVATE LAND CLAIMS.

El Bado, Maraque and Pueblo of Cochiti Grants Rejected—Motions Overruled— Cases Set for Next Term.

Court of private land claims met this morning at 10 o'clock, with all members present, and the following business was transacted.

In case No. 197, El Rito grant, claimed by Antonio Ortiz et al., Chief Justice Reed handed down an opinion, which was concurred in by the other mem- bers of the bench. The claim was dis- missed and the petition of the claimants, El Bado grant was made for 1,350 acres in Santa Fe county, December 24, 1855, and the case was filed in the court of private land claims March 2, 1891. The reason for rejecting the grant was that it was made by an alcalde who had no power to make grants. James H. Purdy represented the claimants in the trial.

In case No. 278, the Maraque grant, Associate Justice Sloss handed down an opinion, which was concurred in by the other members of the court, rejecting the grant and dismissing the petition of the claimants. The Maraque grant is situated in Santa Fe county between Gallisteo and Cerrillos and was claimed by Pelequina Campbell et al. The grant was made in 1825 by the territorial deputation of New Mexico; the court held that between 1824 and 1825 no local official had power in New Mexico to make grants, and that such power was possessed only by the supreme au- thorities at the City of Mexico.

In case No. 170, the Sanguijuela grant of 20,000 acres in San Miguel county, claimed by Alexander Grelan- chun, the motion for a rehearing was continued until the next term of court. N. B. Laughlin, attorney for the claim- ant.

In case No. 171, the Pueblo Quemado grant of 900 acres in Santa Fe county, claimed by Abran de Herrera et al., was continued until the next term of court. J. H. Purdy, attorney for the claimants.

In case No. 278, the Pueblo of Cochiti, or the Juana Baca grant in Bernalillo county, claimed by the Pueblo of Cochiti, the demurrer of the United States was sustained. The claim was re- jected and the petition of the claimants dismissed. J. H. Crist and N. B. Laughlin, attor- neys for the claimants.

In case No. 34, the Clenoguilla grant of 45,000 acres in Taos county, claimed by Lehman Spiegelberg et al., the claim- ants' motion for a rehearing was over- ruled. James H. Purdy, attorney for the claimants.

In case No. 12, the Santa Cruz grant of 48,000 acres in Santa Fe county, claimed by Frank Becker et al., set for trial on the first day of the next term of court. T. B. Catron, attorney for the claimants.

In case No. 231, the Alvarez grant of four leagues square in Mora county, claimed by Eugenio Alvarez et al., was sub- mitted and taken under advisement. T. B. Catron, attorney for the claimants.

In case No. 198, the Santa Miguel del Bado grant, an error occurred in reporting the proceedings of yesterday. The grant was not tried and taken under ad- visement. The case has been remanded to the lower court by the United States su- preme court for further proceedings.
